What's driving the increase in 45% increase in volume? Discuss higher vapor pressure requirements.
Actions/Comments
Volume has been increasing due to emerging global markets and climate change laws. Randy would like to talk with Buff on Increased vapor pressure.
Summary
AB-70 volume will be picking up soon. Enviro-Safe has begun to fill for 20 new private label companies since the beginning of the year. This along with potential new business has created a need for additional tanks. Randy plans to invest in a new facility, which will need approximately 4-5 18k-30k gallon storage tanks. This recent spike in business is directly related to foreign regulations for HFC products. Most countries outside of the USA are switching to hydrocarbons and Co2 for their refrigerants. Some of these countries have begun to tax companies that use HFC's in their products.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Aeropres Corporation and Technical Propellants have agreed to terms that will involve Aeropres Corporation purchasing the assets of Technical Propellants with an effective closing date of Monday, July 18, 2011.

Aeropres has long-term plans to keep both its Manhattan, IL facility and the newly acquired Morris, IL facility open and operating as usual. This agreement strengthens Aeropres' already industry-best supply chain position by adding yet another stream of reliable NGL propellant feedstock and providing an enhanced business continuity position for all customers nationwide, especially in the Midwest region. It will also provide a larger safety net of inventory on all propellants used, including 152a, DME, and 134a.

The acquisition by Aeropres will also augment Aeropres logistics capabilities by providing customers with the largest available fleet of trailers, including the biggest fleet of twin barrel trailers and the industry's ONLY fleet of Super Barrel trailers, which deliver up to 2,000 gallons more per delivery than industry-standard delivery sizes. Customers can expect the most flexible and accommodating delivery service available anywhere.

An Aeropres representative will contact you very soon to provide more details and answer any questions you may have. In the meantime, please contact me directly at 318.213.1205 or at jbowen@aeropres.com if you have questions.

We at Aeropres truly appreciate and value your business.

Sincere regards,

Aeropres Corporation

Joe Bowen
Vice President - Sales & Marketing

Press Release

Aeropres Corporation to Acquire Technical Propellants, Inc.

Creates Global Leader in Manufacturing and Distribution of Ecologically Safe Aerosol Propellants, Foam Expansion Agents, and Refrigerant Grade Gases. Combined Companies' Assets of over $45 Million provide Unparalleled Tools to Serve Customers Nationwide. For more information, contact Joe Bowen, Vice President-Sales and Marketing, Aeropres Corporation. 318.213.1205 - jbowen@aeropres.com

Shreveport, LA & Morris, IL, July 6, 2011 – Aeropres Corporation (“Aeropres”) announced that they have signed an agreement to purchase the assets of Technical Propellants, Inc. (“Technical”) effective Monday, July 18, 2011. Technical is a key supplier of aerosol propellants, foam expansion agents, and refrigerant gases in the Midwest and Southeastern portion of the United States.

Aeropres has long-term plans to continue to operate its facility in Manhattan, IL and the newly acquired Technical facility in Morris, IL. The expansion will more than double Aeropres’ ability to serve customers throughout the Midwest.

This agreement strengthens Aeropres’ already industry-best supply chain position by adding yet another stream of reliable NGL propellant feedstock and providing an enhanced business continuity position for all customers nationwide, especially in the Midwest region. It will also provide a larger safety net of inventory on all propellants used, including 152a, DME, and 134a.

The acquisition by Aeropres will also augment Aeropres’ logistics capabilities by providing customers with the largest available fleet of trailers, including the biggest fleet of twin barrel trailers and the industry’s ONLY fleet of Super Barrel trailers, which deliver up to 2,000 gallons more per delivery than industry-standard delivery sizes. Customers can expect the most flexible and accommodating delivery service available anywhere.

“Technical worked hard over the years to build very special relationships with their customer base and created a nice niche for them in the industrial and household brands aerosol marketplace. Their key customer base is slightly different than Aeropres’ key customer base, which primarily consists of paints and personal care aerosol fillers and marketers. This agreement provides Aeropres with an excellent strategic fit to pursue growth in our key markets for years to come,” said Robert R. Wilkie, President of Aeropres.

Paul Kuehn, President & CEO of Technical Propellants, stated, “I am extremely grateful to our loyal customers and friends who have supported Technical over more than four decades. In pursuing this opportunity, I have learned a great deal about Aeropres and I am confident that they are deeply committed to our customer base and will provide all resources necessary to provide a smooth and orderly transition to our customers.” Mr. Kuehn continued, “I am also deeply indebted to our employees who helped build TPI to make it the success it is today. The fact that Aeropres plans to operate both Chicago area facilities was a key factor in our Board’s decision to move forward with this sale. This provides a number of our employees the opportunity to continue their employment.”

From natural gas liquids, Aeropres is the largest manufacturer and marketer of ecologically safe propellants, which are used in a variety of spray cans from hair spray and mousses to shaving cream and spray paint. While the aerosol industry is the mainstay of the Aeropres product line, the company also produces NGLs for the polymer and plastic foam blowing industries. These high-purity products include propane, normal butane, isopentane, normal pentane, Dymel 152a (Difluoroethane), Dimethyl Ether, and 134a (Tetrafluoroethane) singly or in any blend combination.

Aeropres has become a trusted name in the industry for a variety of reasons, but one stands out above the rest: Innovation. With over thirty years of industry leadership, Aeropres has never stopped looking for ways to make their product better, easier to use, easier to buy, and easier to sell. Others may talk about innovation; at Aeropres, we are innovation.

Actions		Decisions-Notables
Summary of Meeting
Envirosafe has grown by 18% mostly in the propane refrigeration end of the business due to a great response from Canada with the 134a supply. They have not used any CO2 or Nitrogen in the aerosol end, and most likely will not since they don't package for California. Recommended they wait til June to place an order as the pricing will likely be down slightly. Randy has developed a spray glue for PVC pipe joints that is really cool and doesn't get on your fingers. IT is unbreakable so that may take off for him.

Randy Price		Michael Byrnes
Planned agenda		Planned questions
1. Market summary 2. Volume balance of 2009 3. Changes in new business		Decrease in 2009 Refrigerant updates for his poultry refrigerant New products for 2009
Actions		Decisions-Notables
Summary of Meeting
Envirosafe business is down about 23% compared to 2008 mostly due to competitive situations with his customers. They continue to supply the poultry fast freeze divisions over seas and the torch business in Canada. Their business is pretty stable and Randy expects an increase in volume 3d and 4 th quarters in 2009.
